Governor And State Officials Laud Record Of Highway Workers

Lawrence County Highway Workers Safety Record Is Celebrated Last Night

THOUSAND ATTEND CATHEDRAL BANQUET

Political Meeting Follows Recognition Of Safety Record; Shaw Presides

John B. Shaw, superintendent of the state highway department in Lawrence county, and the men and women who work with him were honored Wednesday night in the Cathedral, when their safety record, the No. 1 safety record for highway departments in the entire world, was acknowledged by over 1000 guests, among them the governor of the commonwealth, George H. Earle.

This was not just an ordinary safety banquet, it was a banquet marking the completion of 3½ years of continuous operation without a single lost time accident, a record no other highway department has ever approached and the enthusiasm demonstrated by the crowd was justified.

Dining Room Jammed.

For the occasion the huge dining room of the Cathedral was jammed to capacity. Guests were there from all parts of Lawrence county, from Pittsburgh, from Harrisburg and from adjoining counties. Letters of congratulation were read from the U. S. Bureau of Roads and from other state highway departments. The evening was divided into two parts. The safety celebration was first and it was just that, with no politics in it. Following the safety meeting it was announced that the state-wide candidates present would speak politically and they did. At no time was the safety record and politics mixed, there being a clear line of demarcation.

At 7:30 the 1000 or more guests sat down to an appetizing dinner. Before sitting down one verse of America was sung and Rev. Fr. J. A. Doerr, pastor of St. Joseph's church, delivered the invocation. Following that, Mayor Charles E. McGrath welcomed the guests upon behalf of the Lawrence county.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Quite a lot of work is being done by the State Highway Department on Route 422, just this side of the Ohio line. The term is being widened and leveled off, Pa New notes.

With the opening of the trout season Friday, members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association remind local anglers to respect the farmer's rights. The association also asks fishermen to release small trout under water. If difficulty is experienced in removing the hook, anglers are asked to cut the line.

At Cascade Park workmen are cutting and trimming up the grass and sweeping up the leaves with improvised brooms made of tree branches tied together. This is some of the initial part of much work planned for the beautifying of the Park for the coming season.

Pa New was told today that quite a large number of small snakes are to be found along the Neshaunock creek, north of town. The informant said that some of them appeared to be copperheads.

An attractive coating of silver paint has been applied to the flag pole atop the roof of the new library building, corner of North and Mercer streets.

Out on East Washington street, two school boys have been "enjoying" themselves.

Church People Will Unite In Three Services

Solemn Observance Of Good Friday At Three Simultaneous Services

MANY MINISTERS TO PARTICIPATE

For the first time in years, the New Castle Ministerial Association is sponsoring a citywide observance of that most solemn of religious holidays, Good Friday.

From 12 o'clock noon until 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be three-hour services in progress at three churches—the First Methodist Episcopal at the corner of Jefferson and North streets, the Trinity Episcopal at the corner of Mill and Falls streets, and the Mahoning Methodist Episcopal in the seventh ward.

Last Three Hours
Although each of the services will last for three hours, the worshippers may come and go at the singing of the hymns. They may stay as long as they conveniently can.

At both the Methodist churches, seven different ministers will speak on the last seven words of the Lord Jesus Christ. At Trinity church the entire service will be in charge of Rev. Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster College, First Wilmington.

Speakers at the First M. E.—Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates of the Third U. P., F. E. Stough of St. John's Lutheran, D. L. Ferguson of the Highland U. P., G. S. Bennett of the First Christian, J. J. McLean of the First Presbyterian, J. A. Cousins of the Croton Ave. M. E., and C. B. Winger of the Central Presbyterian. Rev. W. V. McLean, First M. E. pastor, will preside.

Speakers at the Mahoning M. E.—Rev. D. C. Schenck of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian, T. B. Shearer of the Central Christian, Milton E. Shearer of the Madison Avenue Christian, W. J. Holmes, retired Presbyterian minister, Harold A. McCurdy of Epworth M. E., J. Calvin Rose of Second U. P., and C. H. Heaton of the First Baptist.

Rejection of the higher passenger fares followed a decision by the commission several weeks ago in which an application by all railroads for a flat increase of 16 per cent in freight rates, was turned down.

At the time however the commission granted a series of rate increases from 5 to 10 per cent which was expected to produce revenue, according to various sources, from $200,000,000 to nearly $300,000,000.

The passenger fare petition of the carriers would have affected only the eastern territory—from Chicago to the Atlantic seaboard and as far South as Washington.

Love Triangle Of Deaf Mutes

MRS. SARAH WALD... TELLS THE COURT IN SIGN LANGUAGE

Strange love triangle of deaf mutes was unfolded in felony court in Chicago when a 24-year-old wife and her alleged sweetheart were charged with conspiring to slay the woman's husband. The wife, Mrs. Sarah Wald, above, denied, through her attorney, that there was a murder plot and termed the affair a family squabble. The husband, Louis Wald, is in a hospital suffering from injuries suffered when he was struck with a hammer, allegedly by Jack Glutzer, the friend. Glutzer said he struck Wald when the latter swore at his wife in sign language and he, Glutzer, feared Wald was going to beat her.

Council In Controversy Over Appointment Of Street Commissioner

NO CO-OPERATION DUNLAP CHARGES

In an opinion prepared by Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, and delivered to Mayor Charles E. McGrath and read in council meeting today at City Hall, Long stated that Carmel Glover still holds his office as commissioner of streets, with a salary of $160 a month. Reading of the opinion touched off a controversy between Councilman William H. Dunlap and colleagues.

Some time ago Dunlap submitted a resolution appointing Glover as foreman of sewers. The resolution was passed unanimously. Later Dunlap employed William G. Fleming to act as commissioner of streets. The name of Fleming was not placed formally before council.

Long's opinion stated that the ordinance passed February 16, 1934, provided the term of officers and employees not prescribed by act of assembly might be terminated at any time by action of council, first by a resolution declaring the office vacant; second, by naming some other person to the office, and third, by dismissing the said officer.

Glover Still Commissioner
It also stated that, inasmuch as council does not appear to have passed any resolution declaring the office vacant, Glover remains in office.

Deadlock Threatens On Tax Bill In Congress

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A deadlock between senate and house conferees over the vital undistributed profits and capital gains tax provisions of the new $5,000,000,000 tax bill was threatened today.

As senate-house committees resumed negotiations for an agreement in secret session, senate tax leaders reiterated their determination not to yield to President Roosevelt's demands.

The deadlock, if it develops as expected, may force house conferees to ask the house for new instructions. The situation not only dashed the hopes of Democratic leaders of reaching a speedy agreement on the "help business" tax bill but may prolong the session of congress and cause it to end in a bitter fight.

House foes of the principle of the undistributed profits tax were confident that a vote on the issue would result in complete repudiation of the new tax theory adopted in the 1936 tax bill.

New Deal leaders were equally confident that the house would back President Roosevelt in a new test on a "vote of confidence."

Respect Monroe Doctrine Roosevelt Warns World

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Roosevelt today bluntly warned the old world that the United States "will not permit" infringement on the time-honored Monroe Doctrine by "aggression coming from outside our hemisphere."

On the occasion of Pan American Day, in a speech sent by radio short wave and translated throughout South and Central America, the president announced that the 21 American republics are presenting proudly to the rest of the world "a demonstration that the rule of justice and law can be substituted for the rule of force."

"We have the same problems, the same differences, even the same material for controversy which exists elsewhere," Mr. Roosevelt asserted to the annual assemblage of the ambassadors and ministers from the Latin American countries.

"Yet, we have undertaken contractual obligations to solve these normal human differences by maintaining peace; and that peace we are firmly resolved to maintain."

"It shall not be endangered by controversies within our family; and we will not permit it to be endangered from aggression coming from outside our hemisphere."

The president's Pan American speech was going over the ether waves at about the same time his vitally important, special message was being read to congress outlining a recovery program to meet the currently acute domestic business recession.

Machinery Ready For Handling Of Proposed Big Fund

Roosevelt Plans To Expend $1,450,000,000 On Public Works Program

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Federal machinery is ready for swift handling of President Roosevelt's proposed new $1,450,000,000 Public Works Program, Administrator Harold Ickes announced today as the president's pump priming plan went forward to congress.

The states, said Ickes, are 75 per cent ready to do their share, 3,000 projects are on PWA's books, and state PWA boards have already been regionalized in the interest of speed.

"We were unready in 1932, when the old PWA was created," he said, "but our machinery is set now and the states are ready to go forward."

The PWA chief suggested one modification of Mr. Roosevelt's suggestions dealing with the $1,450,000,000 spending scheme. The president recommended that of this $1,450,000,000 be classified by law as for loans, and $450,000,000 for grants, and Ickes suggested that division be left to PWA.

Railroad officials shared in the pleasures of the evening, among them the superintendent of the Akron-Chicago Division of the Baltimore & Ohio, W. C. Baker, of Akron.

Mr. Baker, called upon for remarks, said that the company takes a great deal of pride in the association of veterans, comprised of men who have had at least 20 years continuous service in the B. & O. He said that never has the co-operation of the veterans been needed more than now, and that they can render service in a number of ways, service that is greatly needed in order to increase business. He pointed out the apparently insig-

President Gives His Program To Halt Recession

Congress Gets Proposal For Federal Spending And Lending Plans

PLEA FOR NATIONAL UNITY ALSO MADE

President Urges Cooperation Of All To Aid In Meeting Present Situation

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Frankly recognizing that the nation is heading into another real depression—unless current tendencies are halted—President Roosevelt today proposed to congress the authorization of another elastic federal spending and lending program of some $4,000,000,000.

In a special message conveying the request, the president made a stirring plea for national unity in a time of emergency. The emergency, he said, is here, and it is up to every class of citizenship to submerge differences and pull together for the common good. Otherwise, he warned democratic processes of government are imperiled.

In addition to the outright spending and lending he proposed, Mr. Roosevelt informed congress that the treasury will proceed to restore the $1,000,000,000 of its impounded gold. "This, it is expected, will have to some degree an inflationary effect on the credit structure of the country."

Three General Ideas
The president's recommendations fell under three general headings:

1. Additional appropriations of $2,000,000,000 for direct relief expenditures.

2. Deleveraging of the $1,400,000,000 in idle gold.

3. Loans from the treasury amounting to $500,000,000, with authorization for the lending of still another $1,000,000,000 to states and cities, the principal to be repaid without interest, or on a loan and grant basis as the borrower preferred.

The net cost to the treasury by either method would be about the same.

While the aggregate of the president's proposals is about $4,000,000,000, the net cost to the treasury is expected to be far below that figure. Approximately half is to be on a revolving loan basis, with the treasury expending its return.

$1,712,000,000 In New Money
Administration officials estimated the whole program will involve only $1,712,000,000 in "new money." They arrived at this by figuring the recoverable nature of the proposed loans and the use of old and unexpended funds.

For direct relief under the WPA, the president proposed an outlay of $1,250,000,000, and for a resumption of PWA building $450,000,000. Other direct expenditures would grant $75,000,000 for farm security administration; $75,000,000 for the National Youth Administration; $50,000,000 for the C.C.C.; $100,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation; and $25,000,000 for construction of new federal buildings.

Must Increase Income
"All the energies of the government and business," he said, "must be directed to increasing the national income; to putting more money in the pockets of the people."

U. S. Against Warship Limitations

No Restrictions To Be Accepted

France and England Are Told U. S. Will Build Ships Desired

ARMS LIMITATION MOVES HAVE FAILED

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 14—The United States has demanded that Britain and France agree to removal of all restrictions on battleship construction, and is prepared to build a fleet of swift, well-armed "pocket battleships" to meet a new threat by Japan in heavy cruisers.

These two developments occurred today as the navy high command sped a determined program of national defense calling for construction of two warships to every one Japan lays down.

The American demand for absolute freedom of action in warship construction caused a sharp rift with this country's former World War allies and abruptly halted conversations in London.

Britain and France, it was learned, are seeking to hold the United States down to an agreement not to build battleships in excess of 4,000 tons and armed with 16-inch guns.

The United States, to the consternation of the British, who ever since the 1922 disarmament conference have felt they should dictate America's naval strength, has informed the British and French that arms limitation, for the time being anyway, has palpably failed and that if Japan is exceeding the tonnages of former agreements and keeps her exact naval program secret, the United States has no intention of being shackled in any manner.

people into private jobs; to giving security and the feeling of security to all people in all walks of life."

Mr. Roosevelt analyzed at some length the causes of the 1929 depression, and asserted that "our situation (today) is vastly different from that which we faced five years ago." He had previously reviewed the reforms accomplished since 1933 in the field of banking and business.

The tools to cure this economic slump, he said, are now already forged and laid out on the bench for use.

One of the primary causes of the depression which he inherited, he said, was over-production of everything—such over-production that the public purchasing power was unable to keep up with it.

What happened in the late twenties on a large scale, he said, has now occurred on a smaller scale—production has got ahead of the ability to buy. He mentioned steel, automobiles, and cotton in this connection. Although his indictment included the general field of manufacturing industries.

Recovery And Reform Together
Mr. Roosevelt reiterated his belief that recovery and reform in governmental and business practices must go hand in hand.

In this connection, he afforded a glimpse into his future policy when he declared outright for the abolition of all sorts of tax-exempt government bonds; the taxation of now exempt federal and state salaries; railroad reorganization; and a broad general program designed to more securely control monopolies and their price-fixing practices.

"I have set my hope, my aim," he said, "on stabilized recovery through a steady mounting of our citizens' wealth. And in that process, which I believe is ready to start, let us avoid the pitfalls of the past."

GOVERNOR, STATE OFFICIALS LAUD HIGHWAY RECORD

the city and extended his own congratulations to Mr. Shaw and his colleagues.

John K. Morrow, toastmaster. John K. Morrow, safety engineer for the Pittsburgh district, was the toastmaster of the evening and was introduced by Bart Richards. Mr. Morrow is well known here in highway work and is a graduate of Westminister college. He handled the toastmaster's post in clever fashion.

J. Leo Campbell, district maintenance engineer of Pittsburgh, was the first speaker and spoke at more length upon the safety record than did any of the others. Said he in part:

"Three years and six months without a single lost time accident during which time the forces engaged in maintaining Lawrence county's highways have worked over a million and a half man hours is something to be proud of. It not only exceeds anything done by the his record, presented him with a handsome scroll which had been framed. The scroll sets out the record of the department and carries the congratulations of state officials.

Mr. Shaw was the last speaker and modestly he said but little. "The men and women of the department have made a record possible," said he. "If I have any little credit due then I am happy, but I am most happy and proud over the fine spirit of team work we have in the department."

Political Meeting
Toastmaster Morrow announced that this ended the safety meeting and he was turning the rest of the evening over to Mr. Shaw, as county chairman of the Democratic party, to conduct a political meeting.

After a brief introductory speech, Mr. Shaw introduced the candidates present: Governor George H. Earle, a candidate for U. S. senate; Charles Alvin Jones, a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination; State Senator Leo C. Mundy, a candidate for the lieutenant-governor nomination; State Chairman David Lawrence also spoke.

"The fundamental reason for our economic ills is the machine age," said Governor Earle. "Isn't it apparent that when machines are introduced to replace man power that all of us should prosper by it. When it results in men being thrown out of work without compensation, then the machines become a curse. Our trouble is lack of mass purchasing power."

"In order to cope with this situation I believe we should tax corporate incomes heavily so that the profits of the machine may go to the federal government and be turned into jobs for men, in order to provide the purchasing power we need."

Governor Earle charged the Republican party with blind leadership, lack of understanding of the problems, lauded President Roosevelt and asked that he (Earle) be sent to Washington to hold up the hands of the president.

Charles Alvin Jones
Charles Alvin Jones, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination was the next speaker and cut his remarks to a minimum because of a heavy cold which is plaguing him.

"We are charged with being boss picked candidates," said Mr. Jones. "Was George H. Earle a boss picked candidate four years ago? Was Tom Logan a boss picked four years ago? Yet they are selected again this year as candidates by exactly the same means and in the same way, by vote of the state committee. That committee endorsed them. Dr. Mundy and myself as candidates and yet some of our friends try to raise the cry of boss selection."

"I am charged with supporting Alfred E. Smith for the nomination for president in 1932. I have no alibi for that. I did support him and I supported him in 1928. When Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated in 1932 I went to the county chairman, Mr. Lawrence, now state chairman, and offered by services for the candidate of the party and worked for him."

Jones lauded the legislative record achieved by Governor Earle and urged the voters to return Democratic candidates in order that the gains thus made might be kept.

Other Speakers
State Senator Leo C. Mundy, candidate for the lieutenant-governor nomination, was the next speaker. He too, lauded the work of Governor Earle and said that if he was nominated and elected lieutenant-governor, he would work to the end that the record of the party might be continued.

State Chairman David Lawrence was the last speaker. He decried the attempts of other Democrats to split the party, recalled to the guests the fact that the four candidates he was working with had been endorsed by the state committee and urged every Democrat to get back of them in the primary and their work for their success in the fall.

DEADLOCK THREATENS TAX BILL IN CONGRESS

pletely repealing the undistributed profits tax and its flat rate on capital gains, was accepted by the senate conferees as a challenge and apparently stiffened their attitude.

In spite of the firm stand taken by Mr. Roosevelt in his letter, congressional leaders denied that it indicated a determination to veto the tax bill if his wishes are flouted.

The conferees met for an hour, but was in such hopeless disagreement that adjournment was taken until tomorrow. Then, the conferees hoped, some headway may be made.

The deadlock was not unexpected after President Roosevelt's bombshell letter yesterday to the chief conferees in which he insisted on retention of New Deal tax principles which had been knocked out of the bill by the senate.

Mrs. Roland Roberts is the director of the girls chorus, which numbers twenty, and Kathryn Newbury is the organist.

Admissions to the Oregon State Hospital of patients committed for alcohol psychosis have increased from a 1926 low record of 3.6 per cent of all patients, to 9 per cent in 1935, 12 per cent in 1936, and 13.9 per cent in 1937. And yet, as Dr. John C. Evans, Superintendent, points out, the state itself is in the liquor business.

Siding with anybody gets you in the wrong crowd now, Catholics favor Franco, who is backed by Hitler, who has just destroyed Catholic Austria.

self. This can be seen most plainly in the organization of the government of the United States. Our dual federal and state system of government, our doctrine of the separation of powers, of checks and balances, is indeed well designed to prevent a president from attempting to attain the purple, but it could not have been better designed to render our government ineffective as an administrative organization for carrying on economic activity. In a lesser degree this is true of other parliamentary governments also.

It is a paradox, that in order to save parliamentary government (democracy), it may be necessary to give the executive branch broad economic powers.

As it is, congress gives the president billions to spend, but there is no authorization for economic and social reforms, without which the billions may plunge the nation into that terrible chaos with the other nations—and all liberty lost.

President Roosevelt failed to take his chance in 1933. As was pointed out by this column at that time, he took the road that seemed easier. The rocky road would have made him less popular in the succeeding few years, but today he would be the leader of a staunch people. And democracy would not be at stake. Businessmen will find this truer, in retrospect, than anyone else, for to them the change is greater than to anyone else. The change that comes when previous logical change has been stopped. Each nation suffers a different reaction, but a reaction there is. Ask the moderate Germans, if you can find any who dare answer.

The Denver Post prints slogans sent in by its readers. A recent one submitted reads: "Even though you may be a good mixer, don't try to mix highways with highbrows."

Umbrellas are rented for four cents per day at certain railway passenger stations in England.

FUTURE FARMERS RUSV

The Future Farmers of America, commonly known as the F. F. A., is the national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools under the provisions of the National Vocational Education Act. Launched at Kansas City in November of 1928, the organization has grown steadily and rapidly until upon July 1, 1937, the active membership totaled 143,837 boys in 4,886 chapters of 47 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The New Wilmington chapter and the North Beaver chapter of Mt. Jackson total 100 members.

The primary aim of the F. F. A. is the development of agricultural leadership. Other purposes include: strengthening the confidence of the farm boy in himself and his work, creating interest in a more intelligent choice of farming occupation, creating and nurturing a love of country life, improving the rural home and its surroundings, encouraging organized recreational activities among rural people, and supplementing by means of boy-initiated and boy-directed activities the systematic instruction offered to prospective farmers enrolled in vocational agricultural courses.

The emblem of the F. F. A. is made up of five symbols—the owl, the plow, and the rising sun, within the cross section of an ear of corn which is surrounded by the American Eagle. Upon the face of the emblem appear also the words "Vocational Agriculture" and the letters "F. F. A." The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge, the plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil, the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are the product of vocational agricultural schools, and have learned to cooperate; the cross section of an ear of corn is indicative of the national scope of the organization, as is also the American eagle.

Dr. R. U. Blasingame, head of the department of agricultural engineering, spent the early part of the week in North Beaver township, organizing electrical projects. Tests will be conducted during the coming year on various electrical appliances to use on farms of North Beaver township.

The electrical hot bed which will be used by the vocational educational class at Mt. Jackson high school has been installed and is now in use. Comparison will be made of the efficiency of the unit as compared to a mature hot bed.

April 22 will be F. F. A. field day for the seven mid-western counties of the state at Slippery Rock State Teachers college. The plans include an afternoon of recreation, a dinner meet, and a general meeting in the evening.

Offer Tourists Attractions Of Real Interest

Pennsylvania Will Have Much To Offer Tourists During Coming Season

PLAN HISTORIC OBSERVANCES

HARRISBURG.—The tourist in Pennsylvania this spring will be greeted by the greatest variety of attractions in the history of this popular vacation State.

Fine views, natural wonders, and historic shrines will, as always, be popular objectives of tourists here; but special celebrations and occasions will make the season especially memorable, reports the Pennsylvania State Publicity commission.

Apple blossoms in the great orchards of the State, dogwoods at historic Valley Forge, and the laurel and rhododendron in the mountain forests of the northern counties will lure tens of thousands to organized festivals in season.

Two great historic observances will draw other thousands to shrines in the southeastern part of the state—Tiricim Island in the Delaware river near Philadelphia, and Gettysburg battlefield in Adams county.

At the former site, the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Pennsylvania by Sweden will be celebrated with an international program held jointly by Sweden and Pennsylvania April 7 and 8 and June 28 and 29.

At Gettysburg, the 75th anniversary of the greatest battle in the War between the States will be observed with a final joint reunion between the Blue and the Grey who contested the field in 1863.

There on Sunday afternoon, July 3, President Franklin D. Roosevelt is expected to dedicate an Eternal Light Peace Memorial in the presence of 100,000 spectators.

An equal audience is anticipated for the formal programs of each of the other big days of the observance, July 1, 2, and 4.

Highlights of the week-long program, extending from June 29 to July 8, will include: Reunion and Governors' day, July 1, when governors of all 48 states are expected; Veterans' day, July 2, when veterans of all wars since 1865 will participate; President's day, July 3, and Military day, July 4, when regular army troops will stage impressive maneuvers.

More than 100,000 spectators will be present for each of the four major days, with other thousands attending throughout the program.

More than 100,000 visitors also are expected at Valley Forge—George Washington's winter camp—when the dogwood trees flower there late in April.

Probably about the same time, apple blossom festivals will be held at Gettysburg, Adams county; Chambersburg, Franklin county, and Tyrone, Blair county; each attracting thousands of motorists.

Other thousands will at the same time visit other blossom regions, notably in Berks and Lehigh counties in the east, Huntington, in the central area, and Jefferson, Westmoreland, and Erie counties in the west of the state.

Later, laurel festivals will be held at Wellsboro, Tioga county; Stroudsburg, Monroe county; and Cook Forest, Forest county.

Punkatunney Jefferson county, sponsors a rhododendron festival at about the same time, probably late in June this year.

During the trout fishing season, April 15 to July 31, another group of motorists—the sportsmen—will invade the mountain fastness of Pennsylvania, particularly the central state area, to lure the wily game fish from the swift, cold streams.

Some of the finest fishing in the eastern United States can be enjoyed in Pennsylvania, with countless mountain lakes and streams yielding trout, bass, pike, pickerel and other fish. In the Black Forest region of Potter county alone, more than 700 miles of trout streams are to be found, and thousands of other fishing locations are dotted throughout the state "from Lake to the Delaware."

Then in vacation time popular resorts will be thronged by visitors from every state in the Union.

One of the oldest and most popular playgrounds of the state centers about beautiful Delaware Water Gap and the Pocono mountains of Monroe county. To the westward is Pennsylvania's Grand Canyon in Tioga county, recently much visited. Thousands camp each summer in the Black Forest of Potter county, where facilities are provided.

Still further west along the northern tier counties are Lake Erie and Conneaut Lake, both attractive bathing resorts.

The southern part of the state between Uniontown and Philadelphia offers many resorts, including famed Bedford Mineral Springs in Bedford county, and the Blue mountain resort around Waynesboro, Franklin county.

A MESSAGE TO MOTHERS WHOSE CHILDREN ARE GOING THROUGH THE Vital years

Are you unknowingly neglecting your children's diet during those VITAL YEARS of nine to sixteen? Science states that children need more calcium during those years than at any other time of life. Because calcium helps to build strong bones and sound teeth.

Ordinary meals do not provide enough calcium for the growing child... but pure, fresh milk is rich in this bone-building material.

Don't let your children run the risk of soft bones and poor teeth! Give them a quart a day of our Sealtest-approved milk. This wholesome milk has the scientific supervision of the Sealtest System of Laboratory Protection. Order from our milkman, ask at your favorite store or telephone us.

THE "VITAL YEARS" 9 to 16 are the Vital Years in a child's life. That is when bones and teeth are doing the most developing. Keep your children drinking milk because milk is the richest single food in bone-building material.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Oppose Plans Of Roosevelt

Harrison And O'Connor Are Successful In Squashing President's Ideas

MAY BE ONLY COINCIDENCE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
400 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Journalist.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—When the 75th congress was organizing itself for its current session Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi considered himself entitled to the Democratic leadership of the upper chamber and Representative John O'Connor of New York considered himself entitled to the Democratic leadership of the lower one.

Each had precedence in support of his particular claim. It is no ironical regulation, but it generally is recognized that the chairman of the senate finance committee almost automatically is chosen as his house's majority leader, and that the representative's rules committee chairman is chosen for the majority leadership in his branch. It is a process of regulation from these respective chairmanships into their respective leaderships.

Well, Harrison was and is chairman of the senatorial finance committee; O'Connor ditto of the house rules committee.

NEITHER GOT POST

But note: Neither one has been graduated into any more exalted leadership. President Roosevelt named Secretary Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky over Harrison for his party's upper house leadership. Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas over O'Connor for his leadership in the lower house.

Not that he did not consider Harrison a corking good senator or O'Connor a very high-class representative. However, he boosted for Barkley and Rayburn, as New Dealers.

With his backing, Barkley and Rayburn won.

COINCIDENCE?

Harrison and O'Connor seemingly took it in good part. They appeared to be excellent losers.

Nevertheless, the Rooseveltian governmental reorganization bill recently was, in effect, killed in the house of representatives. And the senate still more recently passed a finance bill, plus essential anti-Rooseveltian amendments.

Was it only by coincidence that O'Connor led the anti-Rooseveltian fight in the house of representatives and that Harrison led the anti-Rooseveltian fight in the senate? Maybe. Yet one can't but wonder.

DEMOCRATS DID IT?

Republican votes alone could not have shelved the administration's reorganization bill or amended the finance bill in opposition to administrative desires.

Anti-administration Democrats could not have done it either alone. It took a combination of the few Republicans in congress and of the anti-New Deal Democrats in Democratic minority, but a considerable one to do it.

And, as previously questioned, was it by a mere coincidence that the trick was turned by Pat Harrison and John O'Connor—turned down by the White House for the leadership of their respective houses?

POLITICALLY IT'S DIFFERENT

It is an old story that certain great executives never have been able to get along for long with their chief subordinates. The late James J. Hill, the Great Northern railroad magnate, had that reputation. Henry Ford likewise. "The nearer the throne, the nearer the steel" has been their organizations' mottoes.

It is not quite the same thing politically.

Al Smith, for instance.

Nor have his early New Dealers stuck with him—Raymond Molzy, Don Richberg, Hugh Johnson, for instance, also.

Tifereth Israel
Is Preparing For Passover Festival

Freedom Ideal Is Stressed By
Passover Fete; First Seder
Friday Night

The ideal of religious freedom will be strengthened in the hearts of all Jews on Friday evening, April 15, when the annual observance of Passover, first festival of emancipation in the history of civilization, opens.

Rabbi Pinchos Katz, leader of Tifereth Israel synagogue, today announces the services which have been arranged for the week-end in celebration of this important period in the Jewish calendar of activities.

The first Seder will be held and celebrated in all Jewish homes this Friday after sundown.

There will be a morning service at 8 o'clock Saturday in the synagogue and an evening service at 7:30. On Sunday morning another service is planned for 8 o'clock when the rabbi will make comment on the meaning of the day.

The main sermon will be delivered by the rabbi Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The subject, "The Hagaddah and the Jewish People."

All students and young people are to attend the services, as well as the adults, for an announcement will be made to the pupils of the Hebrew school and parents informing them of examinations to be held during next week (the Chol Hamoad days.)

Highland Church
Annual Meeting

Congregation Gathers Last Evening For Dinner And Business Session

One hundred fifty members of Highland United Presbyterian church had dinner together in the church dining room Wednesday evening and participated in the annual business session. About 55 of that number were new members and were dinner guests of the congregation. The menu was served by unit 3 of the Naomi Circle, Mrs. J. W. McCrery in charge.

Of great encouragement were the financial reports from the various organizations. They were better than they had been for years. An especially good showing was manifested in the support given the mission work.

Robert Wallace was elected congregational chairman for the evening and W. J. Clark served as clerk. The following elections were made:

Re-elected to the music committee from the congregation, Dr. E. F. Henderson.

Elders to succeed themselves, W. Johnston and A. C. Allen. Trustees for three-year terms, John Haven, to succeed himself, and Edgar L. Thompson to fill the vacancy left by the death of Lee Allen.

Deacons, for three-year terms, Clarence Ruhnrauff, John B. Orfutt and Walker Baintine, the latter to fill unexpired term of the late J. W. Ruhnrauff.

Deaconess, three years, Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert.

Seldom Free from Aching Joints and Limbs
World's Tonic Does Speedy Work On Upset Stomach

Day after day, more and more local people, as well as some from nearby towns are telling the WORLD'S TONIC man how his medicine has helped them. Here are some of the terms they use in expressing their relief: "AMAZING — INCREDIBLE — SPEEDY — GLORIOUS — GRAND — SWEET."

Needless to say, the makers of WORLD'S TONIC feel a sense of pride, to which these gratifying expressions should rightfully entitle them.

Let's take the case of Mr. Joseph Martin, a man 40 years of age and residing at 620 Bell St., Parnassus, Pa., and quote from his story:

"Many times I wished I could find a good medicine to take for my troubles but was always disappointed until I happened to hear of and try WORLD'S TONIC. Reading of it and hearing local folks tell of so much good it had done for them decided me so I fell in line. You can quote me and say 'It is exactly what I have been looking for a long time!' Pains across the small of my back would sometimes make me think that every joint in my body was in trouble. My muscles in the mornings, after a night of tossing and turning would be all stiff and sore and for hours after arising my nerves were all quivery and I'd be irritable and absolutely unapproachable. People started avoiding me and looked at me as if there was something wrong upstairs. I became forgetful and spells of spots before my eyes gave them a blank appearance as if I was able to look but not able to see. A perpetual state of constipation kept my stomach in a terribly upset condition. All in all I was in bad shape when I started to take WORLD'S TONIC. The first thing that happened was what I call a glorious relief from constipation and then all its painful and alarming symptoms were halted one by one.

"I started to sleep well at night. Night risings were not so frequent. The pains and aches were not long in leaving. My nerves were soothed and that cranky irritable feeling went away from which my friends stopped avoiding me as of old. That sour acid sensation was gone from my stomach and I commenced to feel like an entirely new man. You can certainly say for me that WORLD'S TONIC is truly a fine medicine. It's odd how a person can feel so low and despondent and ready to give it all up and then some little thing like hearing people talk can change your whole future outlook on life. I really feel the first day I heard people talking about WORLD'S TONIC was certainly My Luck Day."

Arrest Four As Alleged Numbers
Writers In City

Four more men were added to the list of alleged number writers nabbed by County Detective Paul A. Welsh Wednesday afternoon when he and several state highway police dropped in at a home on Banks street.

As they stepped into the rooms, Welsh says, four men were engaged in counting slips and money and running totals off on an adding machine. All four were arrested. Their names are Fortunato Ferro, Tony Ferro and John Ferro, all of Banks street, and Tony Cavella, of Boyles avenue. With them were taken an adding machine, numbers slips, numbers books and a sum of money, said to be money that had been played Wednesday.

The visit was a surprise to the men arrested. They told varying stories of why the numbers slips were there and insisted they were not in the racket, merely players.

Some time today they will be arraigned before Alderman L. C. Mantz.

Grandmothers have changed. They can see a skinny kid now without exclaiming: "That child's wormy!"

A walking stick was used to smuggle the first silk from China to Europe.

Lawrence Discusses Problems Of State Before Kiwanis Club

Secretary of the Commonwealth, David L. Lawrence, warned the Kiwanis club yesterday that Pennsylvania, like the nation at large, must do something to take care of citizens left idle as a result of "modern machinery moving in."

Before the Kiwanis members and their large group of guests in The Castleton ballroom, the state official said "people would have starved" had those taxes not been levied.

Secretary Lawrence—and he spoke in that capacity—told the audience at the outset that his subject was chosen because of its prime importance to the nation and "not for the army of persons now preening their feathers."

He declared, "for we've got to spread the jobs that now exist among the people."

Defends Taxation.

Striking back at critics who complain of heavy taxation, Mr. Lawrence said that "any taxes that have been added have been added to feed and take care of needy unemployed throughout our state."

He said "people would have starved" had those taxes not been levied.

Secretary Lawrence—and he spoke in that capacity—told the audience at the outset that his subject was chosen because of its prime importance to the nation and "not for the army of persons now preening their feathers."

He declared, "for we've got to spread the jobs that now exist among the people."

the state administration's efforts to meet the problem, Lawrence recalled several instances where "modern machines" have thrown hundreds out of work.

"What has happened," he said, "is that in this country the machine has caught up with us."

From 1912 on, he had said, this country seemed to keep up with the march of modern machinery and men weren't thrown out of jobs in the mass.

"The average American wants to work," the speaker told the club. "He doesn't want a WPA job. He wants work that permits him to make an honorable living for his family. It's a small segment of our people who are lazy and don't want to work."

Japan Is Depressed Over Progress Of War In China

Japanese Also Getting Nervous

Cost Of War In China Is Far Beyond Calculations Of Leaders

SOCIAL UNREST IS APPEARING

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Writer

TOKYO, April 14—(Via London)—Japan is getting nervous. Her people are becoming increasingly depressed over progress of the war in China.

The government is beset by growing difficulties. With Premier Prince Fumimaro, Kenobe, under pressure from all sides to institute a full-planned fascist regime as the only way out.

A survey conducted by this correspondent leads to the inescapable conclusion that the little man of Japan—and his wife—is depressed and disheartened. The realization that the war embarked upon in China is destined to be an almost endless affair, with the inevitable terrific drain upon national resources that such hostilities involve.

Social unrest is appearing. Parliament has been compelled to cut higher taxes. The cost of living is mounting daily. Restrictions of personal liberty and initiative are increasing.

Wentley Of War
In general, it may be said that Japan is weary of war. And disturbed social conditions are aggravating this discontent.

The people in all probabilities would fervently welcome peace. But rumors say that behind the scenes the all-powerful militarists of Japan are still planning even greater strides than ever in the Asiatic proposals. The military leaders thus far have turned deaf ears to all peace proposals.

Premier Kenobe, on the other hand, is less adamant and there were growing indications today that unless he throws in his lot with the war leaders and evolves a fascist government to regiment and nationalize the whole country, he may be compelled to resign.

Sober Japanese leaders aside from the military would like to see their armies halt on the line of the Yellow river and the Lungshai railway, considering the territory thus far won more than sufficient for Japan's needs.

Chinese Stubborn
But the stubborn attitude of Chinese dictator Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, who refuses to concede that he is defeated, is forcing the Japanese to continue the fight with Hanks as the ultimate aim—with knowledge of the present Chinese capital, would to all intents and purposes signalize the end of hostilities.

But this means extension of the long thin line of Japanese communications more and more while guerillas, bandits and regular Chinese troops hang on their flanks like wolves.

What is sobering Japan most of all is the realization that Japanese financial and economic resources have been greatly overextended and not only the length but the cost of the Chinese campaign vastly undetermined.

It is increasingly realized that financial aid from Great Britain, the United States, France and Germany will eventually be needed in reconstruction and exploitation of the Chinese mainland conquered and held by Japan.

This realization is bringing about a marked change in the Japanese attitude towards foreign interests. But at the moment the government's main concern is that of popular appeasement. What means will be found to restore the country's flagging enthusiasm is yet to be disclosed.

New 'Brain Box' Will Eliminate Need Of Thinking

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Ill.—You don't have to think any more. A device that looks like a clock and was displayed at a housewares show here, will do it for you. The new "brain box" or "electrical robot" is easily attached to a wall or placed on a table in home or office. It is motivated by current from ordinary outlets. According to its inventor, a prominent electrical engineer, it will: Have hot coffee ready and waiting for you when you arise in the morning. Take care of cooking dinner while your wife goes to the theatre. Will Adjust Radio Turn on your radio in time for your favorite program and turn it off about the time your announcer mentions patent medicine, furniture or a popular shaving cream.

It will remind you to be out when the insurance men visit you at the office or the collector calls for the second installment on the family car, provided you know when to expect them in advance. In short it's a handy thing to have around.

Need $5,796.70 To Save Ellwood City Hospital Directors Inform City

ELLWOOD CITY, April 14.—The local hospital board received word today that unless they can raise $5,796.70 within the next few weeks the First National bank will sell the hospital to the highest bidder at the scheduled auction that will take place in Beaver Falls on June 5. It is announced.
Hospital authorities informed The News this morning that the local hospital owes a $4,000 principal note and $1,796.70 interest, making a total mortgage of $5,796.70. J. S. Bowater, secretary and treasurer of the hospital board, stated that the entire group of local men comprising the board are very much concerned that the city will lose the hospital because there are no funds available in the hospital treasury to meet the obligations.
Dr. H. E. Helling of the hospital medical staff also showed deep concern and worry today over the community probably losing one of the most needed institutions, a "community owned institution that never asks where the money is coming from regardless of who the patient may be or what his financial status is."
C. E. Kettler, receiver of the First National bank for the government, stated today that the community office, is using every pressure possible to have him wind up the First National bank business so they can issue the last dividend on that bank very shortly.
Mr. Kettler urged the local hospital board to do something to save the institution because if it is sold at auction there is a probability of some outfit buying the mortgage and then in turn sell the medical furnishings and scrap the entire buildings.
A few months ago the Chamber of Commerce received a letter from the State Hospital board committing their economical and efficient methods of managing the Ellwood City hospital.
Efforts have been made to have the government officials heed the community call to save the hospital by wiping out the debt for the community but the plea was given a deaf ear in Washington.
Today our hospital serves territory reaching to Wampum, Zellenople and Portersville and at the present time every bed is filled with patients.
This is the most serious problem them has faced our town in its history and every citizen should accept this community problem as their own problem.

Turkey Leads In Number Of Centenarians

(International News Service)
ISTANBUL, April 14.—Turkey is a land of longevity, a land where, according to the latest census of the population more than 5,000 centenarians are today living in good health.

Of this large "rising generation" of persons of 100 years of age and over, the census revealed 1,256 are men and 3,985 women.

In addition, some 30 persons claiming to be 150 years of age were also discovered by the census to be alive in Turkey.

Amongst the latter was a man named Dede, who claims 157 years. He was living in the town of Elaziz, where in spite of his great age he is bringing up his 11-year-old great granddaughter.

Although he only sleeps four hours a night, Dede is quite hale and hearty and he still has a good set of teeth. He is firmly convinced that the elixir of his long life is due to the large quantities of curdled milk he drinks each day. The greatest ambition of this grand old man is to live long enough to be present at his great granddaughter's wedding.

In a small village near Elaziz lives a woman of 124 years of age. She is Dede's cousin and claims to be the oldest person of her sex in the country.

RECESSION HITS DEER
(International News Service)
ROCKAWAY, Ore.—The winter lack season in logging camps of this area was as hard on the deer as on the loggers and their families.

Nine men were arrested for shooting deer out of season, and numerous deer carcasses were found in the woods with choice cuts of meat removed. Officials believe lack of work and high cost of meat was responsible.

To Name Ten For Housing Survey

Harrisburg Man Explains
Housing Authority Plan
To Council

MAYOR WILL NAME MEN FOR SURVEY

Charles V. Doyle, Harrisburg, today appeared before council and explained the operation of a housing authority, following which council adopted a motion submitted by Councilman W. H. Dunlap authorizing Mayor Charles E. McGrath to name 10 men to donate their services for the purpose of ascertaining the necessity and advisability of setting up a local housing authority.

Doyle explained that when a survey is made and it is found that there is need for a housing authority such can be made and the city can secure money for housing persons in the low income bracket. He said the best plan for the local authority, if formed, would be to secure a proportionate loan from the government.

He explained that the city can secure up to 90 percent of the cost of the project and the city would be required to provide the other 10 percent. However, he added that were the city to furnish employees to help make surveys this charge could be added into the 10 percent the city would be asked to furnish.

Doyle said houses cleared away because of unsanitary conditions or hazards could be replaced by houses which could be occupied only by persons in low income brackets and selected by the authority. The rent, he said, would be between $3.75 and $5.00 per room and this cost would also include the cost of heat, light and water.

Persons enjoying an income five times as much as the rent would not be allowed to occupy the properties.

Franklin Shrine To Be Dedicated

President Roosevelt May
Unveil Statue To Great
Pennsylvanian May 19

IN BUILDING OF INSTITUTE

PHILADELPHIA.—A national shrine to the memory of one of the greatest of Americans will be formally dedicated May 19 with unveiling, possibly by President Roosevelt, of a white marble statue of Benjamin Franklin.

The new shrine, located in Franklin Institute, will be one of the most comprehensive and appropriate memorials ever designed to perpetuate the memory and the aims and ideals of an illustrious man.

Mr. Roosevelt has definitely expressed his intention of hoping to be present but he will be unable to decide finally until a week or two before the unveiling date.

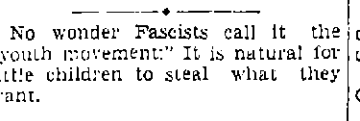

The dedication will focus widespread attention upon the Franklin Institute, which with its Pea Plantarium and Wonderland of Science Museum, last year attracted an estimated half million visitors, including motorists from every state in the Union.

James Earle Fraser, the American sculptor, is now executing the statue which will weigh approximately 30 tons. In a spacious memorial hall, the likeness of Franklin will be seated in majestic simplicity. There will be nothing else in the stately room which is octagonal in shape and 82 feet in length, width and height.

When mounted upon its massive pedestal, the statue, approximately twice life size, will extend 18 feet above the level of the floor. It will be similar in impressive proportions to that of Lincoln in the Memorial in Washington.

Three days, May 19, 20 and 21, have been designated for the ceremonies attending the dedication. High government officials, ambassadors of foreign nations, governors of states, and eminent scientists, educators and industrial leaders from this country and from abroad will participate in a series of events of national and international significance.

Japs Bomb Their Factory

The Chinese government airplane factory operated by Charles Healy Day, of New York, and his wife, shown with him above, was bombed for the eighteenth time by Japanese airmen. The factory is located in a small city within 100 miles of Canton, but its location is supposed to be secret, despite the fact that the Japanese have bombed it repeatedly. Neither Day, known as "the most bombed man in China," nor his courageous wife were injured. (Central Press)

Urge Gyros for Naval Airmen

office vacant, nor have they named some other person to fill the office and have not dismissed the officer from his capacity as street commissioner, "we are of the opinion that Council Glover still retains his status as street commissioner at a salary of $100 a month."

Councilman Alexander offered a motion to file the opinion. Councilman Fink submitted the second. It was filed over the dissenting vote of Councilman Dunlap, who remarked:

"If you are going to run my department, you might as well run the balance of it."

He said he had been elected to office and that Glover had been transferred by a vote of council, then exclaimed: "I think this is the limit!"

You Want To Interfere
Dunlap then asked council: "How am I going to run the department, right if you interfere. You want to interfere and tell me what to do, he accused his colleagues."

Mayor McGrath replied, stating: "I might say in reference to this, that it is a legal question. Pay day comes tomorrow and Glover is entitled to it."

"It isn't the purpose of pay," Dunlap asserted. "The purpose is to block Dunlap."

"I'm stating the facts. After all city business is a matter of all council," the mayor stated.

"It (the resolution concerning Glover) was brought into council."

The head of the department should have cooperation. It looks to me as if you are going to run it all," Dunlap charged.

The mayor said that when the resolution was passed he thought Glover was also taking over the duties of foreman of sewers as he had in the past done both jobs.

Dunlap declared that Fleming is drawing salary as an inspector and is acting as commissioner of streets, and added that there is no law against this. He then said Glover had been removed by vote of council.

The mayor said that Glover had not been removed legally, according to the opinion drafted by Long. He then said that it was his understanding that Glover was being assigned an added function as foreman of sewers.

Dunlap said that this was not his plan and that in the resolution Glover was classified as foreman of sewers.

Nice Cooperation

"This is nice cooperation. I am getting. You council ought to be proud of yourselves," Dunlap stated.

"There is no lack of cooperation," the mayor replied.

"It has been sought," Mayor McGrath stated. He then charged the interests of the taxpayers have to be protected.

"I protected the taxpayers in my resolution," Dunlap asserted.

The mayor said council had not taken any action to remove Glover and Dunlap charged Glover was not suitable to him. He said the department had been disorganized when he went into office.

Dunlap said something about "padding" last year and declared one man drew about $1,500 a year, who was not needed. He said: "If this isn't protecting the taxpayer I would like to know it."

He then said the matter of public improvements had been taken away from him.

"When you came into office we explained how the WPA was handled," the mayor stated. "You said you would not handle it but you wanted an over-hand" meaning a different plan of ordering and taking care of WPA matters.

"You have not bought anything legal (WPA) in two years," Dunlap stated.

"I signed the orders," said Alexander, who is the purchasing agent and who several days ago by ordinance was designated to take charge of tools and materials for city-WPA projects.

"You had no right to sign them," Dunlap replied. "You did this illegally."

"I was designated by council to do so," Alexander retorted.

"You were not the head of the department (public improvements) and I said I wasn't going to handle it and let Charles Bishop get the stuff," Dunlap asserted.

"We have a check on everything that is secured," the mayor informed Dunlap.

Christmas Comes Every Day For Robt. Taylor

By MILTON HARKER

(Copyright, 1938)
HOLLYWOOD, April 14.—Robert Taylor, of whom you've heard a bit before, received a record mail for any one day, yesterday, there were 800 letters and 14 presents.

Generally there are only 400 to 500 letters and five or six presents. Actually every day is Christmas for Bob Taylor. He gets almost, but not quite, as many presents as Shirley Temple, who once again smashed all Hollywood records for putting letter carriers in convalescent homes.

Daily, from every quarter of the globe, gifts pour in for Taylor. Payorite from feminine fans is a sweater. He's received 16 in six months. An Albany, N. Y., woman has knitted nine for him in two years. A Shreveport, La., fan has sent him three in a year.

Sports manufacturers rush him their latest creations, hoping he'll wear them in film roles. After he appeared as an athlete in "A Yank at Oxford," he received almost enough sports regalia to equip the next Olympic team. Bathing trunks arrive in almost every mail because the word went out he'll swim in his new picture, "Three Comrades."

Before he left for England to make "A Yank at Oxford," he received numerous guide books, traveling kits and one complete set of luggage.

There were dozens of books, too, from fans in Baltimore, Detroit, Salt Lake City, Atlanta and other scattered points.

Since he returned from England, Taylor's new ranch at Chatsworth, 30 miles from here, has inspired farming gifts. His alfalfa is grown from seed supplied by farmers in Nebraska, his native state. There are scores of farming textbooks. A Montreal horseman sent a saddle.

There were gifts for his ranch home, too. A Davenport, Ia., girl sent a leather book shelf while a Lansing, Mich., feminine fan contributed a set of brown drapes.

Many odd trophies arrive as well. For example, a warrior's shield from the South Seas, a boomerang from Australia, and a carved wooden beer mug from Austria.

Taylor can keep only a few of the gifts. Otherwise, he'd have no place to sit down. Most of them go to needy actors and local charities. You can see the postman doesn't ring twice but twice twenty at the Taylor menage.

Zoning Board Fails To Act

Zoning commission met Tuesday in city hall and refused to take action as the result of a request by James E. Foster that the city issue to him a permit for the construction of a building for mercantile purposes at 223-225 Boyles avenue. The commission, according to their secretary, took position that Foster does not own nor represent the property-owners. However, it was said today a petition is being circulated and which when presented to council will ask that the Lincoln-Boyles avenue district be put in the B residence district.

When Foster asked for a building permit, Neal Williams, city bureau of building, said he was not sure if the second house, 225 Boyles avenue, was in the Secondary or B residential section and referred the request to the commission, hence the meeting yesterday.

According to Williams, Foster had a purchaser for the properties but did not want to proceed further unless he was certain the mercantile building could be erected there.

'TIS EASTER SEASON, BUT DON'T GET YOUR 'HANKIES' VIA CHAIN

Postmaster Richard A. Steen warned today that a new chain letter, "developed here in the past two weeks, is contrary to postal laws and regulations and exposes backers to prosecution. "It's circulating out now, though," he reported.

A stack of chain letters was taken out of the mails.

FRENCH SAYS FARMS NOT PUBLIC DUMPS

HARRISBURG, April 13.—J. H. French, state secretary of agriculture, today asked the people of Pennsylvania not to deface farm property.

Popularization of the automobile seems to have made it more convenient for many city or suburban families during spring house-cleaning to dump their rubbish on farm fields than in city dumps.

"The average farmer has as much pride in the appearance of his land as the city family has in its front lawn," declared Secretary French.

Seven Teams In Softball League

Franklyn Crisci Conducts Initial Session At "Y", Season To Open In May

HOPE TO HAVE ONE MORE TEAM

A city softball league of eight teams is envisioned this year, according to Franklyn Crisci, president of the league. The first real session of the year was held last night at the "Y" with seven teams sending representatives.

Want Eight Teams. It is sincerely hoped that eight teams will join the popular softball league this year. The following teams will take out franchises at the next session to be held Wednesday of next week at the call of President Crisci: Weavers of the Seventh Ward, Polish-American Citizens Club, St. Joseph's, Radiators, Strollers and Bears.

Nick Cagnetti, will again act as secretary of the league and will also be the treasurer of the circuit. Charles Landolfi of The News is the vice-president of the league.

Open In May. The season will open the second week in May. The franchise money will be $5 payable at the next meeting of the league, next Wednesday night. The umpires this year will not be paid. The managers are to select the umpires at each game. The player limit will be 18 men. Contracts will have to be handed in one month after the opening of the season. No player can be released the first month.

The Bears were represented by Jack DeFlore, the Weavers by Mr. Weaver, the Polish-American Club by Ed Shellen, the Radiators by Dundo Ambrosio, and the Strollers by Nocera.

Expert Good Season. The league will play on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights and the games will start at 6 o'clock or by 6:15 at the latest. A game may be cancelled at least a day ahead of time. Games can be called off due to deaths and wet grounds and rain. All teams must have stationary bases. No spikes will be allowed on the shoes of any of the players.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Lawrence county trout streams have been well stocked with trout, ranging from 8 inches to 17 inches in length, preparatory to the opening of the season, Friday. No doubt some nice catches will be made providing of course weather conditions are suitable for fishing. The trout streams in this county are Little Nesbannock, Deer Creek, Hettensbaugh Run, Big Run and Hickory Creek.

Jimmie Dunn has a new fighter at Los Angeles, a card from Dunn, at Sacramento, stating that he now manages Charlie Coates. Dunn has been on the Sunny Slope for about a half dozen months and has been fighting battles to cities in California and adjacent states.

Bill Jolly, former threileman on the P. R. R. and boxing promoter of this city, paid a visit here yesterday. Bill is boarded out of Erie these days. He looked well and hearty when he stepped into the office yesterday. Bill reports several boys who appeared here are living in Erie.

Visitors in the city last night included Max Adler, Pittsburgh, Max fought in the semi-finals to the Billy Bevan-Yankee Gilbert bout, at Humber Hall, about 20 years ago. Another chap was Pete Boy, the former amateur middleweight of Ellwood City.

Clarence De Mar, school teacher and a veteran marathon runner, has forwarded his entry to the Boston Athletic Association which will stage a long grand on April 19. It will be his twentieth start. He will be 50 years old in June.

Charley Brant, Central City, knocked out Duke Yankee, Pittsburgh, in the first round at Pittsburgh, last night. They are light-heavyweights. Other results were: Billy Miller, Pittsburgh, defeated Lloyd Pine, Akron, in a junior lightweight bout; Ralph Gizzo, Pittsburgh, lost to Jimmie White, Cleveland, in a lightweight bout; Zack Robinson, Clairton, won from Tiger Jackson, Akron, in a welterweight bout; Gigi Carras, Pittsburgh, won from Irish Coyne, Scranton, in a featherweight bout; Bill Bailes, defeated Steve Kooeda, McKees Rocks, in a middleweight bout and Willie Polan, Ford City, took the nod from Jimmy Burns, Homewood in a welterweight bout. All the bouts excepting the Brant-Yankee scrap went six rounds.

RADIATORS WILL HAVE FAST TEAM. The National Radiators will be back in the City Softball league this year with another fast team, it was announced by Manager Dundo Ambrosio. The Rads will meet Friday night at the Radiator field at 5:30 o'clock for a short workout.

Monday the Rads tackle the Polish-American Citizens club team at the Rads field. The following should report Friday night to Manager Ambrosio: Greg Ross, Irv Rubels, Pascale, Stone, Mazzari, Coppel, Cowmadow, Greene, Nickie Ross, Eddie Hilton, Gabby DeCaprio, Jack Lewellyn, Cooper and any others who care to try out for the team.

This is the tenth year for the Radiators in softball circles. They are the oldest team playing the popular game in the city.

Eight Clubs In City Baseball Loop Possible

Four New Teams Apply For Franchises This Year At First Meeting

There is a strong possibility that the City Baseball league will kick off on the opening the first or second week in May (depending on the weather) with a fast eight-club league.

Babovsky Presides. The first meeting of the year at the Y.M.C.A. last night with Secretary Michael "Jack" Babovsky in the president's chair turned out to be very enthusiastic.

Another meeting has been called by Mr. Babovsky for next Thursday night at the "Y" at 7:30 o'clock at which time a set of rules will be adopted, fields lined up and a more general organization take place. A new set of officers will be chosen by the managers at the next meeting, it is understood.

Eight Teams Show Up. The following teams from last year had representatives at the meeting—West Pittsburgh, the champions, Ryantown, K. Pulaski, Lawrence Indies. The following new teams are anxious to get into the fast circuit—New Castle Red Sox, East Side Merchants, Union Township Civics, and the St. Josephs.

Mr. Babovsky in talking about the 1938 league today was very optimistic. "We are going to have the best league that New Castle has seen for many a year," was the way general Jack put it.

Need Playing Fields. All that is needed in New Castle to put baseball back on its feet is a few good playing fields. It is hoped that all eight of the teams represented at the meeting will decide to enter the league. Eight teams is plenty for a fast circuit.

The fans of New Castle will miss the rivalry of the Ryantown and Fishermen series this year, the local "fire-batters" have decided not to enter a team this year. The series between these two West Side clubs provided a lot of entertainment last year.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 14.—Sam Riddle, owner of War Admiral, deserves three cheers for sportsmanship. . . he agreed to let the Admiral carry equal weight with Seabiscuit when the two met in the $100,000 match race in the fall at Belmont. . . though the Biscuit is an older horse. . . furthermore, if the truck is built and not to Seabiscuit's liking, the race will be postponed a week. . . Seabiscuit can have the post position, too. . . Friends of Seabiscuit didn't ask for enough. . . they should have insisted that Strangler Lewis ride the Admiral. . . maybe Mr. Riddle wouldn't mind that, either. . . Sam must have a sneaking hunch the son of Man O'War is going to win this heat!

Here's a parlay for you. . . the odds ought to be at least 1,000 to 1. . . Cunningham to beat Venke when they meet April 30 during the Penn relays. . . all on Fighting Fox to win the Kentucky Derby. . . all on Henry Armstrong to beat Barry Rose and Lou Ambers. . . all on Max Schmeling to beat Joe Louis. . . all on Johnny Allen to win 20 games. . . all on the Cubs to win the National league pennant. . . all on War Admiral to beat Seabiscuit. . . all on Michigan to beat Ohio State on the gridiron. . . just put up two bucks and collect in plenty of time to do your Christmas shopping. . . was that an alarm clock I just heard?

We like the story of Rookie Goose Goslin. . . discarded by the Tigers because of scullery, he appeared at the Washington training camp this spring, looking for a job. . . Clark Griffith told him to put on a uniform and see if he still could bat without gettings his whiskers all twisted up with the blue-don. . . Goslin walked up to the plate for his first appearance in a practice game. . . and smacked a luscious homer high and far over the batter's box. . . Extry! . . . Goose makes good!

Joe Di Maggio has earned approximately $35,000 since he joined the Yankees in 1936. . . He received $8,000 for first year, which is something of a record for a rookie. . . last year he was paid $15,000. . . and he received about $12,000 as his share in two world series. . . most of the heroes of yesteryear didn't earn that much in a life-time. . . American league umpires must have read with some misgivings the stories of Oscar Vitt's battle in Longview, Texas, when he took the Indians off the field and refused to continue a game after a National league umpire ruled that a ball hit into the outfield crowd, though caught by a Cleveland player, was a two-base knock. . . if Vitt gets that way in exhibition games, what's he going to be like when they're playing for keeps.

PREDATORY PETER PIKE. Peter Pike, the bulbous gentleman above, has that bump under his mid-section because he gulped down a lady pike in the department of commerce aquarium, Washington, D. C., just before the picture was taken.

The victim, his late wife, was somewhat larger than the unsuspecting fish pictured swimming below. Whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Peter had been quarreling is not definitely known. Attendants arrived too late to prevent the misdeed.

Yarns like this, starting to the average reader, are old stuff to many fishermen. Twice we have hooked small pike, only to have them snapped in two by northern minsters. And many others tell similar tales.

The pike undoubtedly is the most voracious of fresh-water fishes, daring at his victims with lightning speed from dense hideous of weeds and rushes.

Traveling alone, he spends his spring and summer in shallow inlets, where bottoms are covered with mossy beds and shores are overgrown. His appetite is indiscriminate and intense, including all other fishes, small animals, snakes and even waterfowl. He often attacks and kills pike as large as himself.

A strong, persistent fighter, he is much-prized by anglers. Most veteran pike fishermen troll a large minnow, hooked to it will spin. Wobbling plugs and flashing spoons are used by casters and fly-rod anglers.

White Says That Trout Streams Are In Great Shape

Clint "Rosy" White of New Wilmington, who holds the post of Fish Warden for Lawrence and Mercer counties, today announced that a survey of all trout streams a day or so ago revealed them to be in excellent shape for the opening of the season Friday.

White says that the following kinds of trout can be found in the various streams. For Brown and Rainbow Trout—Hickory Creek, Deer Creek and Little Nesbannock.

For Brook Trout—Taylor Run and Big Run.

White advised that the legal size is six inches and that the limit is 10 each day.

Major league scorers have guys like Krakauskas of the Senators, Lodigiani of the A's, Coscarart of the Dodgers, to contend with, but they have nothing on American Association lads. . . there is a pitcher at Indianapolis named Molly Myllykangas. . . whew!

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Still the Yankees in our book... now that the major league clubs are headed for their summer slumps, we offer a treatise on the forth-coming season... our pet club ever since we were short pants—New York Yankees—still draws our eye as top... although it seems as though the Yanks could use a dash of pitching and the second base situation is still a problem, we are forced to string along with the McCarthymen... they still figure to outgrip the field... the absence of Tony Lazzeri will be an interesting angle to watch... Lazzeri proved of such value to the Manhattan tigers that his presence may upset the works it is believed by many of the upper sportsmen... Joe Gordon, the upcoming gent from the Newark team, has the job now but it may not be a permanent one... they say he is weak in relating the ball after grabbing it from the outfield... they claim Gordon must get set before bailing the ball out, giving the runner a few seconds' advantage which means a lot to the fleet footed major leaguers... the champs will again bank on "Lefty" Gomez and Red Ruffing... the outside world still is wondering about El Gordo... if he is anything like last year—well, pity the remaining seven clubs... Ruffing's performance last year was sparkling all the way... Columbia Lou Gehrig will be his old self at first and needs no introduction or send-offs... Bill Dickey, Selkirk, Red Rolfe, Frankie Crosetti, Hoag, etc., etc., round up the Yankee forces—and what a force... we will forget Joe DiMaggio... with him in the lineup, the Yankees have punch personified... what's the use, one could go on writing all day and night about the outstanding things about the McCarthymen... they have it and can't be denied... still, the Yankees, at the starting post, the half and at the finish...

A little softball talk... came the following contribution recently... the City Softball League will soon start about May 14... the league opened in 1929 with the Lehigh Cement company winning the pennant, 1930 Wapum won, 1931 Lockley Machines won, 1932 Lockley, 1933 National Radiators, 1934 National Radiators, 1935 National Radiators, 1936 Crum Progressives, 1937 National Radiators... my all time All Star team for the past 10 years... pitcher, Nap Rodgers; Lockleys; catcher, Young Lockleys; first base Biondi, Smith; second base Charles Summers; third base, Joe Mazzari, Lockley and Reds; short stop, El Lockley; Lockleys; roving short, Sid Lockley, Lockleys; left field, Nick Ross, Lockleys, and Radiators; center field, John Melder, Lehigh and Lockleys; right field, Boone, Wapum and Shonango Tin Mill... 1930 was probably the best year in baseball there were two leagues, Mercantile and Industrial Leagues... Wapum defeated Lockleys 2-0 in the final game of the series at Lehigh field... Patterson, of Wapum, held Lockleys to one hit... Tobe Fennell getting the only hit... submitted by Vilho Jacobson...

A visit through sportsland... one of the busiest athletes of the spring season is Glenn Cunningham... everyone seems to be in the market to watch him burn up the cinder path... Zeke Bonura is getting lots of credit for adding team punch into the Nats... we like Chattanooga to cop the Southern Association pennant this year... incidentally, the club is a fan-ownership business... don't be surprised if Joe DiMaggio gets it kicked around plenty even when he signs if he does... they say he'll be doctored for every day of training he missed—and no fooling either... Fritz Ostermuller, Red Sox finger, is our selection for the toughest luck ball player in the past five years... more than 20 operations for a shoulder injury during this lapse of time parley lads take notice... Timmy Thornhill, Stanford boss, is bedazzled... he has so much material for next fall he doesn't know what to do with it...

Baseball question... yesterday's question: "When and Where was the first All Star game held?"... answer—in Chicago in 1933... today's question... (an easy one) "What is considered the most costly error in the history of baseball?"

American Dog Is Given First Honors At English Show

LONDON.—The dignified atmosphere of London's swank Kennel club show at Olympia suffered an unprecedented shock recently when the judges awarded the championship to an American dog. It had just been announced that Sheltiecock Merry Sovereign, American champion aldrake own by S. M. Stewart of New Jersey had been awarded the Kennel club championship, when a woman with a strong English North-country accent, pushed her way through the crowd of two thousand people toward the judges' stand, waving her arms and protesting loudly at the decision. Judges Berated Austere eyebrows were raised in shocked disbelief. But when the woman gained the judges' stand and began to shriek charges of favoritism, calling the judges "fools," polite murmurs of protest turned to angry hisses and boos, and the still loudly-protesting woman was hurried from the premises by stewards. "Never in all my long experience have I known a similar experience," said Mrs. Holland Buckley, chief steward, and prominent member Sheltiecock Merry Sovereign. The three-year-old aldrake is also holder of the American championship in his class, and was bought to this country by J. R. Barlow of Alcester, Warwickshire. Barlow is a prominent English breeder.

Little ChangedPre-Holiday Dullness Prevails in Market Transactions TodayBy LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, April 14.—The stock market turned in a sluggish performance today, as leaders backed and filled around previous closing levels in typical pre-holiday dullness. Minus signs were slightly in the majority among pivotal groups.

Aviation shares were bolstered by house committee approval of a bill to repeal the present limitation of 10 per cent on profits in construction of naval aircraft. Ralls, on the other hand, suffered additional losses as the U. S. C. denied the petition for passenger fare increase on electric roads.

Gains in air shares ran to about a point, while the carrier list suffered equal-sized losses. Stocks of airlines, coppers and oils were somewhat reactionary.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem each gave up more than a point at their close, while Chrysler in motors, Standard of N. J. in oils, and Woolworth in the merchandising section suffered similar losses. Westinghouse and Chase each dropped more than two points.

Fractional declines were shown by Anaconda Copper, General Motors, General Electric, Loew's and U. S. Rubber.

To Wage War On Drunken Drivers

Hearings To Be Conducted At Motor Police Headquarters Throughout State

TRY CASES IN DISTRICT HERE

HARRISBURG, April 14—Governor Earle's new highway safety drive calling for immediate license suspensions for drunken drivers and re-examination of operators involved in accidents resulting in personal injuries has hit its stride with 300 motorists cited for appearance before departmental inspectors for these causes.

Hearings will be held at points convenient to the home addresses of the defendants.

By the governor's direction all suspended drunken drivers are now taken by the motor police to the nearest physician for examination. If the doctor finds the driver under the influence of liquor, he is cited for a hearing before a departmental hearing inspector.

If the evidence warrants, the drunken driver's license is immediately suspended by the secretary of revenue following the departmental hearing. As the vehicle code specifies revocation for one year for drunken driving, the driver's license is subsequently revoked for one year beginning with the date of the original suspension.

Operators found guilty of contributing to accidents resulting in personal injuries will receive license suspensions for periods proportioned to their culpability under the law. At the end of their suspension periods they will be required to take a re-examination of their driving ability in accordance with the recent order of Governor Earle.

The driving examinations will be conducted by the motor police and will be exactly the same as those for new drivers.

Each driver taking the examination is questioned concerning his knowledge of driving regulations and the vehicle code after which he must give a practical demonstration of his driving ability. Each applicant may take as many as three examinations during a period of 90 days. Failure to pass the third test results in a continuation of the suspension for a period of 90 days thereafter before another examination may be taken.

Not Responsible For Actions Of Three C.C.C. Boys

Refuse Payment Of $39.50 To Motorist Who Had His Windshield Broken

WASHINGTON, April 14—When three C.C.C. boys go A.W.O.L., leave an empty whisky bottle through an automobile windshield and inflict $39.50 worth of damages of the occupant, there is no reason why Uncle Sam should foot the bill.

President Roosevelt so ruled yesterday in vetoing a proposed relief bill which would have authorized payment of $30.50 to Peter Sielma of Monaca, Ind., for medical expenses incurred when he was assaulted December 1, 1935.

The president pointed out to congress that at the time of the "unfortunate occurrence" the CCC enrollees were absent from camp without leave and were not acting within the scope of their employment. He added that while the amount involved was small, favorable action might establish a precedent for claims involving larger sums.

Passover Will Be Ushered In With Twilight Service

Service Planned By Temple Israel For 5:30 P. M. On Friday

Retelling the story of the deliverance of the Children of Israel from Egyptian oppression, the Jewish people will reaffirm the ideal of religious freedom as they usher in the Feast of Passover, Friday evening, April 15. There will be a twilight service at Temple Israel at 5:45 p. m., followed by a Seder, Saturday morning at 10:30, there will be a children's service.

The observance of the holiday begins with a ceremony which has a longer continuous history than any other religious rite still practiced. This ceremony is the traditional Seder, a home service, a festive meal, at which the story of the Exodus is told and a service of thanksgiving and hope is read from a special service book called the Haggadah.

For the duration of the Pesach holiday, pious Jews refrain from eating leaven and partake of Matzo, or unleavened bread. The Passover is observed for one week by Reform Jews and for eight days by the Orthodox. The Seder service itself is rich with ancient customs. Unleavened bread and other symbols of the holiday are placed on the table. Parsley is a token of gratitude for the produce of the earth; horseradish signifies the embittered lives of the Israelites in Egypt; a lamb bone recalls the ancient Paschal offering.

A cup of wine is traditionally set aside for the prophet Elijah, the long awaited herald of the final redemption of mankind. At one point in the service the door of the house is opened for his entrance. This festival of hope reminds Jews of their deliverance in the past and their survival through all oppressions and inspires them to be of good courage and to keep alive the flame of Israel's ideal, to be the defenders of freedom for all peoples.

Insurance Men Are Organized

Sensational Drop In Highway Deaths

Record For March Shows Only 98 Traffic Fatalities In State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 14—A "sensational" decline in the number of highway fatalities was reported today by Gov. George H. Earle.

"I have just received the statistics on motor fatalities for the month of March, showing 98 deaths as compared with 209 for March of last year," stated the governor. "Police estimate that approximately 25 per cent should be added to the figures for this March in order to account for those cases in which injuries were suffered in March but did not result in immediate fatalities. Even if our final figures were to be increased to 125 for March, however, it is obvious that there is a sensational decline from figures for March of last year, despite a tremendous increase in the use of our roads, as demonstrated by increased gasoline consumption and the issuance of 300,000 more licenses to motorists this year as compared with last year."

These latest figures, added Gov. Earle, bring the total fatalities for the first three months of the year to 364, compared with 576 for the corresponding period last year.

"This represents almost unbelievable progress in the campaign for highway safety in Pennsylvania," Gov. Earle stated. "I believe that with continued cooperation on everyone's part we can reduce still further the toll of death on our highways."
